

BIG SANDY NEWS.

Aut inveniam viam, aut faciam.

Delicate Girls and Weak Women gain strength for body, blood and nerves from nature's nourishing oil-food
Scott's Emulsion

Volume XXXII. Number 14.

LOUISA, LAWRENCE COUNTY, KENTUCKY, DECEMBER 1, 1916.

M. F. CONLEY, Publisher.

KENTUCKY OIL FIELDS PRODUCING HEAVILY

DEVELOPMENT GOING ALONG AT A RAPID PACE IN EAST KENTUCKY.

A number of Kentucky border counties, contiguous to the Tennessee line, are coming to the front in production at a rapid rate. The center of activity is in Allen-co., which is remote from Kentucky pipe line connection, and a field distinct from other developed regions of the State. Returns from new work are somewhat meager, but reports come in of two recent completions making in excess of 100 barrels each, with half a dozen additional strikes producing from five to twenty barrels. Difficulty of marketing production is the most serious obstacle to development in that field at the present. Tank car transportation to a Nashville refinery has been the only outlet for the field's production. New contracts in Allen-co. call for the drilling of seventy-five wells in the aggregate.

In upper Kentucky Estill-co. operations continue to feature the situation, but a slight falling off in returns is noted from that district. One well of large capacity is reported, making several barrels, with eight new products averaging twenty-five barrels each. A number of smaller completions are reported, averaging around five barrels. The Cumberland Pipe Line company is doing all in its power to furnish an adequate outlet for this field and has been busy running new extensions. Much new work is being started in new directions, extensions of the productive area continuing to feature developments.

One well producing four barrels was drilled in the deep sand district of Lawrence-co. No new wells are reported from Wolfe and Morgan counties. New wells are drilling in Jackson and Bath counties. Some new work is also under way in the upper Big Sandy country, bordering West Virginia.

Interest is created by the announcement that the Standard Oil company of Kentucky, a marketing company, will establish a refinery at Louisville. Kentucky oil is now refined at Parkersburg, W. Va., for the most part. The trunk pipe line extending to the West Virginia city. Pipe line extensions to Louisville would probably follow the erection of a refinery there.—Courier Journal.

NEW PIPE LINE INTO OIL FIELD.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 24.—John E. Bagan, superintendent of the Cumberland Pipe Line company, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil company, announced to-night that work on a new four-inch line from the Irvine oil field to Campton would be started next week. The line will join the main trunk line of the Standard Oil company at Campton, and the oil will be shot to West Virginia and then East to refineries controlled by the Standard.

The laying of this line means that the Cumberland Pipe Line company, which controls practically the entire oil output in this State, will increase its capacity in the Irvine field from 6,500 barrels a day to 12,000 barrels daily. The movement of the concern is entirely unexpected.

"I have made a pretty careful study of the Irvine field for the past several weeks," Mr. Bagan said, "and I estimate at that, that the Irvine field, not including the Station camp district, has a production of upward of 11,000 barrels of oil daily. To this is being added from 300 to 450 barrels of oil each week from new wells being drilled. With this, I estimate that within the next forty days, when we expect to complete our next four-inch line, there will be more than enough oil in the three districts: the Old Defined field, the Fitchburg district and the Millers creek district, to amply justify our going to this expense."

"I am not in the boosting game, neither am I seeking publicity. But to-day the Irvine field looks better to me than at any time during the past two years. I really believe Kentucky will be the mecca for all men in a short time. In fact now there are many producers that are making more money here than in any other field where they have holdings."

FINE DEER KILLED BY DR. LAYNE

Wauha's grocery was the center of attraction for many nimrods in Ashland their attention being taken by a fine deer hanging in front of the store. The deer, a young buck, weighs 149 pounds, and was shot a few days ago by Dr. P. C. Layne, who returned home Monday from a hunt in Northern Maine.

Dr. Layne and his friends will now be able to enjoy one of the finest dishes in the world, venison, for a few days and Mrs. Layne is already making arrangements to have the hide tanned and converted into shoes.—Ashland Independent.

CHAMPION HUNTRER.

Mrs. Samuel Higgins, of near Augusta, Bracken-co., claims the championship of that section of the State. Thursday, with forty-nine shells she killed fifty rabbits, and the day before she killed three with two shots. Last season she killed ten rabbits with five shells.

WORKMAN FATALLY HURT.

Ashland, Ky., November 25.—George Murphy, an employe at the A. C. & I. machine shops, was fatally hurt this morning in an elevator accident.

FIRE SWEEPS ENTIRE BLOCK.

Irvine, Ky., Nov. 25.—Fire originating in the City Restaurant here at 1:30 o'clock this morning destroyed an entire business block and caused a loss of $250,000. The fire was discovered about 1:45 o'clock by two men rooming in the building next door. When discovered the fire had gained much headway and spread rapidly until only charred embers remained. The fire is supposed to have started from a coffee urn in the restaurant building.

The burned area composed half the business district of the town. The town has no waterworks, but there was little wind blowing.

C. C. Dulin, the man who drilled the first oil well in the now famous Irvine field, was asleep in his office when the alarm was sounded and he made a slide for life down a telephone pole guy wire, escaping from the burning building. A man rooming above the Lyric moving picture theatre jumped from the second-story window when the flames cut on his escape by the stairway. He was unhurt.

Tom Buford, contractor for the fireproof Williams bank, dropped dead of heart disease shortly after the fire broke out.

The individual losses were: City Restaurant, partly destroyed, $10,000; T. Q. Wallace, haberdashery shop, $10,000; Lyric moving picture theater, $10,000; Williams Bank, $15,000; building containing the Maple Oil company's office, Dr. Wilson's office, City Hall and Mrs. W. T. Davidson's millinery store, $15,000.

Besides these buildings, which were destroyed, many others were damaged. The W. E. Howell jewelry shop and the Williams residence were damaged. The new three-story brick building under construction, at Broadway and Main street, was in the path of the flames, but because the interior woodwork was only partly completed, it suffered no appreciable damage. The large vault of the Williams Bank remained undamaged and stands alone amid the charred embers. Most of the owners carried insurance.

The loss of the City Restaurant, which fed hundreds of people daily, has caused a heavy tax on the other restaurants and hotels of the city. The fact that Irvine has from 1,000 to 2,500 transients daily has made it necessary for many private homes to open their doors to feed the people, following the fire.

HOW'LL THEY ADDRESS WOMAN CONGRESSMAN?

Washington.—What'll the Speaker call the newlyelected woman of Congress, member from Montana? The fixed form for addressing members is "The gentleman from" whatever State the gentleman is from. Congressional authorities here, after trying the sound of various other titles, seem to have agreed to the obvious, "The lady from Montana," or the "Woman of the House."

THE BUSINESS COLLEGE.

The business department of Kentucky Normal College is in first class hands and those who want a business course can not do better than to come to Louisville for it. Prof. Boland is a high class gentleman and will see that you get the best attention.

It will interest Louisa people to know that he is a near relative of Rev. J. M. Boland, who was pastor of the M. E. Church South at this place four years, and one of the ablest and most popular ministers Louisa has had.

JUDGE HARGIS' WIDOW DEAD.

Carlisle, Ky., Nov. 27.—The body of Mrs. Lucy Hargis, widow of former Chief Justice Thomas F. Hargis, of the Kentucky Court of Appeals, who died at the home of her son-in-law, Jerry South, in Washington, D. C., was buried in the cemetery here today. Mrs. Hargis, before her marriage, was Miss Lucy Norvell, of this city, and was a sister of the late Judge John P. Norvell, of this city.

FRAZIER-PETERMAN.

On last Sunday, November 26, about noon, Mr. Doc Peterman and Miss Lizzy Frazier were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Frazier, a short distance below Louisa, the Rev. H. B. Hewlett officiating. A large number of friends witnessed the ceremony.

SIDE TRACKS LENGTHENED.

Side tracks at many places along the Big Sandy division of the C. & O. are being extended to hold 100 cars. The long trains now being handled make this necessary to arrange for handling trains without unnecessary delays. Mr. E. T. Morris is looking after the work.

CONSCIENCE MONEY.

The Ashland Independent says the C. & O. agent there is in receipt of the following:
Garden City, Kan., Nov. 21, '16.
Agent of C. & O., at Ashland, Ky.
Dear Sir:—

Twenty-seven years ago I rode from Ashland to Louisa, Ky., on C. & O. train without a ticket. I want to pay all my just debts. I am trying to live straight and to go to Heaven when I die. I enclose check for $1.00, which please turn in to the R. R. Co.

Yours truly,
BASCOM STURTELL.

This is the second time within the past few years that Mr. McMahon has received conscience money from people who have left this part of the country and it is a peculiar circumstance that both came from former residents of Louisa.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Esseum J. Ross, 17, to Florence Hay, 15; Dock Peterman, 23, to Lizzy Frazier, 16; Willie Pennington, to Cynthia Evans, 19.

TRAGIC DEATH OF JAMES M. MOORE

DRIVEN TO SUICIDE BY WORRIES OF BUSINESS AND OTHER TROUBLES.

The many relatives and friends of Uncle Tom Moore and family were shocked Saturday by the news of the death of his son James M. Moore, of Logan, W. Va. He shot himself through the head in the Buskirk building at Logan. According to the reports received here the rash act was the result of business worries. He went into a room on the second floor of the Buskirk building shortly before nine o'clock and locked the door, refusing admittance to his little son and also to the deputy postmaster. The boy, age 13, went outside and climbed up the spouting to a window of the room in which his father had locked himself. Just as he looked in he saw his father send a bullet thru his brain. He then broke the window and climbed into the room. The hall entered the right temple and came out on left side, passing through the left eyeball. Death was instantaneous.

A wife and four boys survive. The oldest is 13, the youngest 4. Mrs. Moore was Miss Nettie White, a member of one of Logan's most prominent families. Mr. Moore was 49 years old. He was postmaster at Logan, having been appointed three years ago. He had served as Sheriff of Logan-co. and was formerly one of the most popular men in Logan-co. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Moore, of Louisa. Jim was born in Louisa and lived here and at Webbville until maturity, when he located at Logan.

The deepest sympathy is felt and expressed for the family and relatives.

VIOLIN FACTORY FOR HUNTINGTON.

Huntington, W. Va.—It is said that within the next few weeks there will probably be started at this place a violin factory.

A violin was played at the Improvement convention at the smoker, such as the new industry will manufacture here. The instrument, it was announced, was made entirely of West Virginia wood, a bird's-eye maple back and front of West Virginia spruce, which is said to be better than pine for that purpose. The machinery by which the violin was made was also made in West Virginia.

M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Beginning next Sunday the Rev. W. H. Foglestone, pastor of the M. E. Church South, will preach a series of sermons on: "What The Methodists Believe." The program in full is as follows:
Dec. 3.—"Universal Redemption."
Dec. 10.—"Repentance and Justification by Faith."
Dec. 17.—"Regeneration, or conditions for Entering the Kingdom."
Dec. 24.—"The Witness of the Spirit, or Can we KNOW we are Saved."
Dec. 31.—"Bible Holiness, or Sanctification."

Jan. 7, 1917.—"The Possibility of Final Apostasy."
Each of these sermons will be delivered at 10:30 a. m., unless otherwise announced.

The public generally, and especially the Methodist folk are invited to hear the entire series.

A $50,000.00 POLICY.

R. A. Bickel, the successful insurance man of Huntington, recently wrote a policy for $50,000.00 on the life of a prominent coal operator, whose name is withheld at the latter's request. The policy was placed in the Home Life of New York, of which Mr. Bickel is State Agent for West Virginia and a part of Eastern Kentucky. His agency ranks as one of the company's most productive. He is now president of the organization of agents of the Home Life for the United States, an honor that came to him in recognition of his hustling qualities.

THE LOBACO COMPANY.

A letter issued by the Lobaco company of Louisa to its customers appears in the NEWS. This step announced, forced by the high price of flour, and the plan adopted is intended to give the consumers the benefit of the saving effected by making a larger loaf at a somewhat higher price.

MARKET SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

On Saturday afternoon of this week Miss Sallie Gearhart's Sunday school class will conduct a market in the building next door to Lora's store, at which many good things to eat will be on sale. Go and buy something for your Sunday dinner and these girls will very much appreciate your patronage.

DAVID HENSON DEAD.

David Henson died at his home on Hurricane, W. Va., three miles from Fort Gay, last Sunday. He was 81 years old and was an excellent citizen. The burial took place Wednesday, conducted by Rev. H. B. Hewlett. One son and one daughter survive him.

CHRISTMAS BAZAR.

The ladies of the M. E. Church South will hold their annual bazaar in the building next to Lora's store on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 8th and 9th. Many nice articles appropriate for Christmas gifts will be on sale. Oysters, cream and cake will be served.

MASS MEETING AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH.

The meeting at the Baptist church is attracting considerable attention. Good congregations are attending all of the services. A goodly number have been converted and joined the church.

It is expected that the meetings will continue through Sunday. Following is the tentative program for the remainder of the week:

Thursday 2:00 p. m.—Thanksgiving service: "Thanks Be To God."
Thursday 6:30 p. m.—"How The Death of Jesus Saves Us."
Friday 2:00 p. m.—"When Will Jesus Come?"

Friday 6:30 p. m.—"Death, Judgment and Salvation."
Saturday 9:00 a. m.—"Children's service."

Saturday 6:30 p. m.—"Harvest Praise."
Sunday 9:30 a. m.—Sunday School. 10:15—Talk to children.

11:00—"Co-conquerors With Jesus."
Mass meeting for everybody 2:00 p. m.—Theme: "Heaven."
6:30 p. m.—"When The City of God Cometh Down."

PLANS TO ADJOURN EXTRA SESSION IN WEST VIRGINIA.

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 27.—Failure to secure sufficient pledges in the Senate to pass the proposed resolution creating a committee to investigate alleged election frauds in the State, as demanded by Gov. H. D. Hatfield, resulted in plans being made to-night to bring about the adjournment of the extraordinary session of the State Legislature to-morrow. The Primary and Registration Bills remain to be passed in order to complete the program outlined in the call by the Governor, but both, after being freely amended in the House, were referred to Conference Committees late to-day. The committee will report when both houses reconvene to-morrow. The committee appointed in the House to investigate rumors that attempts had been made to bribe legislators, reported this afternoon that nothing had been found to substantiate the charges.

INJURED MAN DIES FROM PNEUMONIA.

George Calvin Murphy, aged forty years, died Tuesday in Ashland of pneumonia, following injuries received Saturday morning when he was crushed by an elevator at the A. C. & I. shop. Mr. Murphy had apparently been progressing favorably and showed no symptoms of internal injuries or concussion of the brain.

The deceased was a resident of Fairview.

ELECTION ECHOES.

Greenup, which gave Morrow a plurality of 334, was saved to Hughes by one vote. The Democrats won back Hart county by 17 votes and the Republicans retained Lawrence county by 18 votes. The banner Democratic county this year was Kenton with its 5,135 plurality for Wilson, while Graves was second with a plurality of 3,267 for President; Calloway third with 2,308 and Owen fourth with 2,127. The largest plurality for Hughes was 2,748, returned by Whitley county. Knox county was next with 2,056, Harlan third with 1,980 and Bell fourth with 1,948. The pluralities returned in these eight counties in the Stanley-Morrow race were: For Stanley—Kenton, 2,495; Graves, 2,006; Calloway, 1,280; Owen, 1,642. For Morrow—Whitley, 2,215; Knox, 1,692; Harlan, 1,558; Bell, 1,645. A perusal of the returns, county by county, discloses the unprecedented interest of the people to have been aroused in all sections, since the increases in the vote recorded for both Democratic and Republican tickets were general. Wilson carried nine congressional districts and Hughes carried two.

THE APPELLATE JUDGESHIP.

There is considerable interest in the next step as to the Appellate Judgeship in this district. When the case between Kirk and Sampson was in the courts after the primary the Court of Appeals did not declare Sampson to have been the legally constituted nominee of his party. He got his name on the ballot through the tied vote of six of the seven members of the Court. Judge Rollo Hurt being at his home at Adair owing to the illness of a member of his family. On the other hand, he may be permitted to take the seat without a contest so strong is the desire of Democrats in the Thirty-fourth Judicial District—Knox, McCreary and Whitley counties—where he has practically ruled everything, to get rid of him. Governor Stanley is to fill the vacancy in that judicial district, when it is created, by appointment until the succeeding election.—Enquirer.

AGED WOMAN BURNED.

Guyandotte, West Va.—Little hope is entertained for the recovery of Mrs. John Compton, aged 86, who was seriously burned at the home of her son, James G. Compton, on Monday. She was standing in front of an open fire when her apron caught fire, enveloping her instantly. Her son and daughter-in-law beat the flames with their hands and tore the blazing clothing from her body.

LATER.—Mrs. Compton died Tuesday night.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The special term of Lawrence Circuit Court convened last Tuesday for the trial of civil cases. The bastardy case of Jeanette Runyon against Deputy Sheriff A. S. Hatfield, of Pike-co., appealed from the County Court, has occupied the court up to this time and is not yet completed. The verdict of the lower court was that Hatfield should pay ten dollars per month for fourteen years.

CORNER OF A GEORGE WASHINGTON SURVEY

NEAR LOUISA IS WELL KNOWN SPOT THAT WILL BE MARKED PERMANENTLY.

The following article from the Ashland Independent is of local interest. The tree referred to has always been recognized here as the corner of a survey made by General George Washington, and there is no difficulty about locating the exact spot, although the tree has disappeared through decay:

The following letter from our good friend and fellow townsman Judge Jno. F. Hager is self explanatory:
Ashland, Kentucky,
September 21, 1916.

Editor, Ashland Daily Independent, Ashland, Kentucky.
Dear Sir:—

The President of the Kentucky Society of Colonial Dames of America desires, for the Society, to set up bronze tablets commemorating land surveys made in Kentucky by General Washington. One of such surveys was made by General Washington between 1767 and 1770, upon which patent was issued by the Crown of Great Britain in 1772 to John Fry of 2084 acres of land, comprised in which is the town site of Louisa. The beginning corner of this survey was a large poplar tree upon which the initials of General Washington were cut. This tree stood upon the farm of Captain O. D. Botner until about twenty years since when it fell from decay of age.

Another survey was made by General Washington for John Fry. The northwest corner of the residence built by D. D. Geiger in Catlettsburg, afterwards sold by him to Captain Wash Honsell, was laid upon a well defined corner of this survey which, beginning at the mouth of Catletts creek, runs back to the top of the hill and, following a southerly direction, turns to the Big Sandy river and follows its course back to the Ohio river, the place of beginning.

The object of this communication is to elicit specific or general information that will enable the Society to select the most eligible location whereon the place bronze tablets commemorating these surveys and, to this end, I solicit in this public manner all available information for transmission to the President of the Colonial Dames of America.

Original or authenticated copies of surveys or patents aforesaid for the archives of the Society.
JOHN F. HAGER.

BIG PRODUCTION IN IRVIN FIELD.

Ira J. Harshbarger returned yesterday from Kentucky where he had been visiting oil properties in the Irvin field. In partnership with Frank Yates, of Louisa, Ky., the former sheriff has a producing tract, an extension south west from the Irvin field, on which there are three wells, the total daily production of which is conservatively estimated at 600 barrels.

A twenty horse power coil engine is now being installed on this property and it is expected that they will begin pumping there this week and that a pipe line connection will be affected before December. At present the pipe line service available is sufficient to carry only a part of the production of the field but it is the plan of the operators to have it in readiness to carry off all of the oil by the first of the year.

In addition to this 600 barrel tract, Mr. Harshbarger, Mr. Yates, John H. Holt and H. C. Duncan, Jr., have another tract which is producing 100 barrels daily.—Herald Dispatch.

S. S. CONFERENCE.

Rev. L. M. Copley has returned from Johnson City, Tenn., where he spent a week in Sunday school conference, held under the auspices of the American Sunday School Union, with which Mr. Copley has been connected for ten years. Eleven States and the District of Columbia were represented. Mr. Copley, who is secretary of the conference, spoke in the First Presbyterian church on Sunday morning and addressed the conference on Monday evening.

JAMES BOOMED FOR HIGH HONOR

Washington, Nov. 28.—The Washington Times, an afternoon paper owned by Frank A. Munsey, published the following story:

"Senator Ollie M. James, of Kentucky, the biggest man and one of the youngest in the upper branch of Congress, is being powerfully supported for president pro tempore of that body. "There is no doubt about the Democrats controlling the next Senate; but the death of Senator Clarke, of Arkansas, makes it necessary that a new president pro tem, shall be chosen. This position will be unusually important, partly because the Progressive-Republican element will frequently be needed to offset defections of conservative Democrats and finally because it will be of supreme importance that the Senate be under direction that will keep it from falling utterly and of working harmony with the House that may be Republican, and it is certain to be very close."

ACCIDENT FATAL TO BOY.

Pikeville, Ky., November 28.—George Akers, 14 years old, is dead as the result of a shotgun accident, and Willie Keene, 14, is in a critical condition as the result of a similar accident. Akers met his death while withdrawing a gun from under some brush, where it had been hidden.

KENTUCKY BREEDERS OF PURE BRED LIVE STOCK.

The State Department of Agriculture is preparing a revised edition of a "Directory of Kentucky Breeders of Pure Bred Live Stock," and would appreciate anyone who desires his name to appear in same to write the Department direct.

This little bulletin has proven a popular one and is mailed not only thruout Kentucky but to other States as many requests are continually coming to the Department for same. It has served to bring before the public where the best foundation stock can be found in this State, hence the great necessity of being accurate as possible in its compilation and it is the Department's desire to omit no name in this revised edition of any breeder of pure bred live stock in the State.

Notify Commissioner of Agriculture, Frankfort, Ky., giving name, address and kind of pure bred stock he raises, his name will be included in this directory.

LOUISA MAN JOINS ASHLAND LODGE.

L. L. Kinser, of this city, was in Ashland last Saturday and this is what the Independent had to say:

At the regular monthly meeting of the United Commercial Travelers held Saturday night, the members present had a most enjoyable session there being about twenty on hand when the goat was loosed.

Mr. L. L. Kinser, of Louisa, who said he was not afraid of goats or anything else was piloted through some territory that was entirely new to him while the boys stood back and enjoyed his troubles that were coming fast and furious.

However he was stout of heart and strong of limb so he won his fight and is now a full fledged U. C. T.

WOMAN MISTAKEN FOR BURGLAR, DIED.

Ironton, Nov. 24.—Mrs. David Akers, 22, was shot Monday night by her friend, Mrs. George Justice, who mistook her for a burglar and died at the Kellar hospital Wednesday night from the effects of the wound. From the first no hopes were held for her recovery.

Mrs. Akers was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lutz.

BURNS ARE FATAL TO HUNTINGTON BOY.

Frank McKinney, the four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKinney, died last night as the result of burns received last Wednesday when he fell into a kettle of hot water.

The child lingered for days, suffering agonies despite the efforts of physicians. His body was horribly burned in some places part of the flesh had been cooked and peeled from the body. He was the only child.

BUSY TIME BEFORE MARCH 4.

Congressman W. J. Fields, of the Ninth district, said he looked for a busy session before March 4, and expressed the opinion that the greater part of the big Administration measures in contemplation will be passed by Congress during the winter.

"My idea is for Congress not to take the usual holiday vacation," he said, "but to work right through, recessing only for Christmas day. In that way, with night sessions, a vast amount of business can be transacted between the first of December and the first of March."

"The hardest fight of the Republicans will center most likely on appropriation measures," he continued. "If we have not time for them the present appropriations can be continued by resolution and each of them disposed of in a few minutes. That would give us the session for putting through Administration progressive and reform legislation before we lose control, if we do."—Courier Journal.

ON TRIAL IN CHARLESTON.

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 27.—Bird McBride, a typical character of the mountains, and two of his sons are on trial in United States court here for alleged moonshining. They were indicted on six counts each. The revenue officers had much difficulty in effecting their arrest in the back woods of Mercer-co., but eventually have put an end to illicit distilling in that part of the county.

GOING TO WEST POINT.

Raymond Clay has returned to Catlettsburg from Lexington, Va., where he has been attending the Virginia Military Institute, preparatory to entrance at West Point. Mr. Clay will pursue the studies requisite for his examination for West Point at home and expects to apply himself assiduously. He feels that he can do this better at home, as so much time was taken up at the school in military duties. Young Mr. Clay hopes to enter West Point next summer.—Independent.

KENTUCKY REPUBLICANS.

Washington, November 28.—In a vain eleventh-hour effort to carry Kentucky the Republican National Committee drew heavily on its campaign barrel, according to the post election report of the national committee field with the Clerk of the House.

The supplemental list shows that $17,825 was sent to L. F. Petty in addition to the $45,000 already reported. November 4 a Louisville newspaper was paid $5,447.50 for advertising.

Neb Boxley was at home in Ft. Gay the first of the week, but returned to Huntington Tuesday, where he is doing some contract work.